Why Barcamps

A Barcamp is an open event with open workshops. Participants decide over topics and schedule these workshops at the beginning of the event.

A Barcamp gives opportunity to learn new stuff, meet experts, connect to the fellow Javascript community and present yourself. The first and most important rule of Barcamp: You do talk about BarCamp!

Barcamps have a long and spirited tradition within the Developer community. A lot of different development and product topics like project management, CMS, Design, Development, Agile Working, eCommerce, Testing, etc. take place around the world.

Like all Barcamps these Barcamps represent the agile principles of a Barcamp and foster the tradition of community based learning and networking.

Be part of the first vue Barcamp! The wonderful city Berlin will present a unique opportunity to get in contact with new people and present yourself in a way people will remember.

How it works

Food and drinks will be provided.

Following the rules of a Barcamp participants decide on the proceeding and contents of sessions. Everyone is invited to discuss and participate!

Saturday evening we'll have a party, all attendees and sponsors are invited.

Why Sponsor

vuecamp is independent and held not for profit. It is organized by volunteers (supported by their companys) and financed by sponsors. Location, infrastructure, and all catering etc. are paid with sponsored money.

As a sponsor you do not only support the vueJs Project and the Barcamp idea. You also profit from your investment due to the prominent audience (core developers, different vue / JS Project community etc.) present at and connected to the event before, while and after the camp. All sponsors will be named and honoured appropriately throughout all marketing efforts and the camp itself.

Our target group consists of vueJS and Javascript developers, integrators, and management concerned with vueJS and related technologies or projects (like vue-storefront, ...).

Also developers and management mainly focused on other technologies like PHP, .net, Java, Databases, Architecture might be interested in the event, providing a unique opportunity to get in touch with the world of vueJS.

As sponsor you reach out our target group with all available media. As Value Sponsor you profit from a whole variety of advertising activities. Every sponsor gets sponsor tickets. As Premium Sponsor you get even closer to the target group, as you will be able to distribute advertising material, have a booth and hold special sessions at the camp. Please mind that we also offer individual packages, e.g. for media partners.
